

Protagonist: the main or central character of a work of literature. Usually the main character is involved in a conflict or struggle

Antagonist: the opponent or enemy of the protagonist, the person standing in the way of what the protagonist wants

Supporting Characters: characters who help the protagonist achieve his or her goal

External Conflict: between the character and another person (usually the antagonist), society, nature, or technology

Internal Conflict: struggle within the mind of the character